

Yellow warning Rain

Between
04:00 Sat 23 Nov 2024 and
07:00 Sun 24 Nov 2024

Heavy rain and thaw of lying snow may cause some disruption

What to expect

- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- There is a small chance of fast flowing or deep floodwater causing danger to life
- Where flooding occurs, there is a slight chance of delays or cancellations to train and bus services
- There is a small chance that some communities will become cut off by flooded roads
- There is a slight chance of power cuts and loss of other services to some homes and businesses

Further details

Periods of heavy rainfall will affect parts of northern England through the rest of Saturday and overnight into Sunday morning. Including rain that has already fallen on Saturday, cumulative rainfall totals are likely to reach 40-60 mm widely. Some parts of Cumbria could see as much as 100-120 mm in places. Melt of lying snow will add to these rainfall totals.

What should I do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding. If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

 Very low likelihood of medium impacts

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.

Reason for update

Heavy rainfall now restricted to parts of northern England. End time curtailed and removed reference to snowfall.
